Ireland Shows Her Sympathy for Johnstown

BY MOST GENEROUS GIFTS.

The Lord Mayor of Dablin Cables £1,000 -All Eager to Holp the Sufferers-Andrew Carnegie Donates $5,000 to Addition to What His Firm Gave-Englishmen Display a Willingness to Assist.

(BY CABLE TO THE DISPATCH.) LONDON, June 8 .- [Copyright.]-A meeting is now/being held in Dublin to show sympathy in words and in money for the victims of the great disaster. Lord Mayor Sexton, who presides, and who, on his own responsibility, cabled £1,000 to America before the meeting was held, is an example of the eagerness everywhere to show substantial sympathy. When the news of the disaster first reached London a dispatch was received at your London office from Andrew Carnegie offering $5,000 to any subscription that might be started here, in addition to $10,000 given by his firm, and many similar generous offers followed. Channels for the prompt transmission of all contributions have now been opened in every direction, and only prompt organization by the American representatives is needed to secure from traveling Americans much larger sums than have yet been received. Americans in London have universally expressed what they believed to be the general sentiment in the United States—namely, that Americans are Abundantly Able and Willing to give all that may be required, with no assistance from the outside; but the desire over the remains of the Rev. Dillon, re-to give all that may be required, with no assistance from the outside; but the desire to give has been universally shown among Englishmen, and the surprise and irritation is general at the Lord Mayor's failure to start a Mansion House fund. The custom of opening a fund at Mansion House in all cases of great disaster is so universal as to become a matter of course. It never fails in case of a flood in China, or a volcanic eruption in an out of the way island, therefore the curious exception to the rule in the presence of the curious exception to the rule in the property overcome for any ordinary grief. the curious exception to the rule in this case is worthy of investigation, apart from all question as to the money needed.

The reasons given to your correspondent by the Lord Mayor's secretary this after-noon, though not entirely unfounded, prove the chief dignitary of this city to be suffer-ing from an attack of offended official dignity not overcome by the spectacle of thou-sands of dead bodies.

The Lord Mayor's Complaints. The Lord Mayor thought, said his private secretary, that Americans were quite rich enough to manage their own disasters, but what was more important, he did not think they appreciated the charity at the time of the Charleston disaster. A fund was started, but the money subscribed was sent back by Charleston's Mayor with the remark that it was not needed. Afterward the Lord Mayor received numerous press cuttings describing the raising of a fund by the Lord Mayor as a display of uncalled-for advertisement, or, as the Yankee had put it, cheek.

as the Yankee and put it, cheek.

This had dried up the fountain of the Mayor's sympathy. The latter being just now out of town, his secretary thought he perhaps might open a faud it waited upon by deputations of prominent Americans and asked to do so. But that is not likely to happen. It is only fair to point out that the warm sympathy expressed by the average Englishman forms a pleasant contrast to the sentiment of Lord Mayor Whitehead as expressed by his secretary, Soulesby.

HAMILTON AND LEE

Leave for Washington for the Parpose of Securing National Aid.

FROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT. JOHNSTOWN, June 8 .- Dr. John B. Hamilton, Surgeon General of the United States army at Washington, who has been here looking after the medical interests and for the purpose of disinfecting the town, left this afternoon for Washington, in company with Dr. Benjamin Lee, of Philadelphia, who had his headquarters in Pittsburg. The two gentlemen will lay the condition of Johnstown before the President, and it is likely that national sid will be extended to the sufferers. In conversation with a Drs-PATCH correspondent Dr. Hamilton said: "I have been all over Johnstown and do not think there is any danger of contagion here. The people down along the river below here who have to drink and use the water from this place are in great danger, and should not do so. The people living
and should not do so. The people living and recovered enough to come back to town bility of an epidemic will be stamped out." They have put 150 men at work on the

They have put 150 men at work on the gorge clearing it out. At the latest it should not take them longer than ten days to do the work. With good grappling irons there is no reason why the stuff could not be moved before the warm weather sets in. A good idea would be to send to Pittsburg and scoure a crane from a snag boat. The derricks could be placed along the railroad, and in the hands of experienced men they would do more than all the dynamite that could be seared up.

There is one thing here that outsiders should know. We do not want any more doctors here, and the people who send supplies should not send committees with them, as the latter are only in the road of those who want to work. It also makes a great many more mouths to feed. It is much better for the people to ship the stuff here and let the local committees handle it. McSWIGAN.

ONLY WISH TO DO GOOD. Pittsburg Merchants Not in Johnstown for the Purpose of Speculation.

FROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT, 1 JOHNSTOWN, June 8 .- The talk going the rounds regarding the land sharks infesting this district is almost totally without foundation, so some authorities report, except that prominent Johnstown men desire to give the town a boost in a financial way. Prominent real estate men of Pittsburg are here, not to speculate, but to assist in the work of aiding the suffering ones, and to aid in the restoration of the town. John D. Biggert said to me this evening: "Those reports are hardly credible, so far as Pittsburg people are concerned, and I can truthfully say that it is not my intention, nor do I think one real estate dealers of Pittsburg. I think any real estate dealers of Pittsburg are here to acquire property by taking nd-vantage of the destitute people, wantonly or otherwise. We are here to work." Joseph H. Brown, another real estate man, borated Mr. Biggert's statement. They are members of the Sportsmen's Association of Pittsburg, and expect to stay here ten days, accomplishing good work. They hope for any fraternal help. Also the insurance men of Pittsburg are here for the same pur-

Another news item heard of to-day was Another news item heard of to-day was that a prominent Sixth street merchant would establish a general drygoods, clothing and grocery store here on a large scale. Further than this no more effort has been Further than this no more cause interest, made to bring about any business interest, and it is thought this is rather premature.

PROVIDING FOR 300 PANILIES. How the Jr. O. U. A. M. to Johnstown ! Looking Atter Its Members.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCE. JOHNSTOWN, June 8.-In the Seventh ward schoolhouse, where the new Jr. O. U. A. M. headquarters have been established, there is an animated scene. These were the first headquarters opened in the town, and

BURIED IN TRENCHES.

Few Funerals Held Amid the Ruins-The People Too Overcome for Ordinary Grief-How Graves are Marked. PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATOR.

JOHNSTOWN, June 8 .- Up at the cemetery there is a gang of 25 men on duty to dig and fill graves and handle the coffins. When a wagonload of the dead arrives they all fall to work digging fresh graves in plots where the labels on the coffins show that the inmates are entitled to burial in some of the plots. There were several femilies who owned no plots, and the bodies of the unknown dead are lugged off to where a great trench, 100 feet wide and the length of a coffin has been dug in the earth. The coffins are laid close in the bot-tom of this trench, and the dirt quickly shoveled over them. One trench is full already, and start has been made on an-

General Haslet Thinks the Reported Thiev ing Has Been Exaggerated, IFROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT,] JOHNSTOWN, June 8 .- In regard to the stematic thieving and maltreatment of odies about which so much has been said and of which so little is actually known, Major Sam Haslet, of Washington, Pa., who has been on the ground since Monday,

"I have been relegated to duty here," said he, "on General Wylie's staff, and as you can see all right in the very center of the ruins with 1,000 workmen directly un-der my eyes all the time. I believe and actually know that this thieving business has been greatly exaggerated. In the first place, the men, Huns and Italians, can't steal if they want to. There isn't a single man working alone, but all are under each other's eyes. Of course, I have seen a work-man stoop down now and then to pick up something, but it was generally out of mere idle curiosity, or he wished the cheap trinket or toy merely as a keepsake of the great flood. You will find the greatest damage has been done by visitors, who curry off everything as relice." KAINE.

A COUPLE OF THE ROMANCES.

Mother and Daughter Die Together Rather Than Only One be Saved. [FROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.] JOHNSTOWN, June 8,-Evan B. Jones. wife and one daughter, of Woodvale, were lost in the flood, and the pathetic incident in connection with this family was when a man had a chance to rescue Mrs. Jones and a young daughter he told them he could save only one, as his life was in danger should he try to pilot them both to the shore. The daughter calmly said: "If you can't save us both, let us here to die to-gether," and they were carried away under the drift. Their bodies are still uniound. Another case was that of a woman with her child, who saw the terrific torrent coming and hastily gathered a bag of bonds and cash in hope of saving it. The flood came upon her, and the alternative presented was either to drop the money, amounting to $3,000, or the child. She let the valuable

Catarrh IS a blood disease. Until the poison is expelled from the system, there can be no cure for this loathsome and dangerous malady. Therefore, the only effective treatment is a thorough course of Ayer's Sarsaparilla—the best of all blood purifiers. The sooner you begin the better; delay is dangerous. "I was troubled with catarrh for over two years. I tried various remedies, and was treated by a number of physicians, but received no benefit until I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. A few bottles of this medicine cured me of this troublesome complaint and completely restored my health."—Jesse M. Boggs, Holman's Mills, N. C.

Boggs, Holman's Mills, N. C.

"When Ayer's Sarsaparilla was recommended to me for catarrh, I was inclined to doubt its efficacy. Having tried so many remedies, with little benefit, I had no faith that anything would cure me. I became emaciated from loss of appetite and impaired digestion. I had nearly lost the sense of smell, and my system was badly deranged. I was about discouraged, when a friend urged me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and referred me to persons whom it had cured of catarrh. After taking half a dozen betties of this medicine, I am convinced that the only sure way of treating this obstinate disease is through the blood."

No. 3 SIXTH ST.,

DR. WOODS, SPECIALIST IN THE CURE OF CHRONIC DISEASES. WHY HE ADVERTISES. What the late Henry Ward Beecher said about newspapers and doctors: "I am glad that the doctor cured him. I am glad the doctor put it into the paper that he cured him, and if any doctor is certain that he can cure such diseases and does not put it into the papers, I am very sorry. What a pity it would have been had this doctor come to town, with his wealth of science and experience, and gone away leaving him uncured! What a pity it would have been if he had been so prejudiced against advertising as to read the responsible certificates of the doctor and give him the go-by as a quack! What are the newspapers for if not to circuimperious."

Many well-known cisizens of this and other cities testify to Dr. Woods' genius and remarkable success. Men and women whose lives had been tor years miserable from disease that was pronounced incurable have been restored to health by Dr. Woods. So numerous and so trustworthy are his references and indorsements, so remarkable and permanent are the cures he has effected by his superior skill and sbillty, and so continuous his success that he stands prominently forth as a physician who may be consulted with the utmost confidence that his treatment will cure even the most desperate cases.

late valuable in ormation? What more valuable information can a newspaper give than to tell a sick man where he can be cured? If a man has devoted his life to the study of a special class of diseases the necessity of saying so becomes all the more pressing. His duty to advertise becomes imperious."
